

TO HONOR

RICHARD A. YUDKIN

MAJOR GENERAL, UNITED STATES AIR FORCE
1919-2004

Major General Richard A. Yudkin entered the US Army in 1940 with a Reserve officer commission as a second lieutenant of infantry. Shortly after entering active duty his branch affiliation changed to the US Army Air Corps. His World War II service included assignments with the Ninth Bomb Group in the United States and Panama. Following the war he served as a planner in numerous high ranking staff positions in the United States, Europe, and the Pacific. He culminated a distinguished thirty-year career as the Director of Doctrine, Concepts and Objectives, DCS Plans and Operations, Headquarters, USAF. After retiring from active duty in 1970, General Yudkin achieved further success as an executive with the Owens Corning Corporation. In 1991 President George H.W. Bush appointed him to the US Air Force Academy's Board of Visitors. General Yudkin died on 13 December 2004. He is survived by a brother, a niece, two nephews, and a host of friends and admirers.
