TO HONOR CHRISTIE SCHWANK

As our go-to person for nearly everything concerning The Friends day-to-day operations, her responsibilities ranged from financial management and records keeping to supporting meetings, maintaining multiple databases, preparing all manner of communications, and ensuring compliance with a bevy of governmental reporting requirements. Undaunted by an extensive portfolio, she did all that we asked of her, got things right the first time, and somehow always managed to keep a smile on her face. On the occasion of her retirement, The Friends wish to acknowledge the distinguished service a revered colleague whose gifts as a manager were matched only by a magical ability of brighten the lives of others around her.
